YESTERDAY IN COURT

A Heavy Docket Heard by Justice Burroughs and Many Lawbreakers Punished.

LAW AND CHANCERY AND OTHER COURTS

Term -A Railroad Case Reford Judge Hughes-Guilty of Theft-The Barbers Captured-Charged With Cruelty to Animals.

Justice Burroughs' Police Court dock-et yesterday was large and some of the cases were important and interesting. CAPTURED THE BARBERS, et yesterday was large and some of the cases were important and interesting.

CAPTURED THE BARBERS.

John Washington, colored, proprietor of the barber shop under the Gladstone Hotel, and two of his workinen named Horace Price and Charles Pool. also colored, stood before the Police Court yesterday charged with keeping the barber shop open and working on Sunday, Detectives Williams and Curtis raided the shop on last Sunday morning, and caught Washington and Price in the act of shaving some customers. Their attorney, Julius T. Saunders, asked that the warrant against Pool be dismissed, as the evidence did not prove that he had been engaged in working and that the other two offenders be discharged by their paying the costs in consideration of the fact that the parties being shaved were guests of the hotel and customers of the shop; that they did not pay on Sunday and the shaving them was more in the nature of a favor than for profit or business, and that the parties bore good reputations, never having been before the Police Court prior to this occasion. Justice Burroughs dismissed the warrant against Pool and gave the others the minimum fine of $2 and costs. Mr. Saunders noted an appeal from the fines and the bonds of Washington and Prince were placed at $25 each for their appearance, which bond their attorney furnished.

CHARGE UNSUSTAINED.

In attempting to get even with Officer Frazier for performing his duty, Luther Walker, a young white man, found himself under arrest with a serious charge confronting him. While the officer was patrolling his beat near the Queen street market on Saturday night last, Luther Walker attracted his attention by creating a disturbance. The officer ordered him to be quiet and move on whereupon Walker became abusive and dared the officer to arrest him, which the latter prompty did, giving him a ride in the patrol wagon. He was salled out by Justice Gregory and immediately demanded that the Justice issue a warrant for the officer on the charge of being drunk. The warrant was served up where it was apparent to every one present that the charge was unwarranted and sworn out with a view to getting even with the officer, who was acvised to have Walker again arrested for perjury, which he did. In the Police Court yesterday the charge against the officer was dismissed and he was honorably acquitted. The evidence indicated that Walker was intoxicated when he swore out the warrant against the officer and the latter was lenient enough not to push the charge of perjury against him. He was, therefore, slimply fined as a nuisance $5.25 and the costs in the perjury case, total, $2.5, JAILED AND FINED.

William Riddlek, a big negro man was very much in evidence in the Police Court yesterday, being arraigned on three separate charges—one for stealing a lot of cakes from Mr. S. Fondbury valued at 20 cents, another for drunkenness and a third for committing a nuisance on the street, Mr. I. W. Eason appeared as his attorney. Justice Burroughs gave Riddlek thirty days in jail on the first charge, fined him $3.50 on the second and dismissed the third.

CHARGED WITH CRUELTY TO ANIMAL

third.

CHARGED WITH CRUELTY TO ANIMAL.

George Washington, allas George White, colored, was arrested by Special Officer Moore, agent for the S. P. C. A., on Sunday upon the charge of ill using a horse and causing its death. In the Police Court yesterday Washington was represented by Attorney Julius T. Saunders, who produced a number of witnesses, who restified to the good attention given to the horse by Washington; that he was a good master to all of his horses (he having several), and that the horse did not die from ill

GUILTY OF THEFT.

A colored woman, named Alice Ferebee, was arrested Sunday by Officer Frazier on a charge of stealing three sweaters valued at 59 cents, from B. H. Keys, The evidence against the woman was conclusive, and her attorney, Mr. John G. Tilton, did not offer any defense, but made a plea that the woman be fined instead of imprisoned in consideration of the small value of the goods taken, her past good reputation and the large family depending on ner. His Honor at first sentenced her to tibrity days in jail, but later in the day he re-opened the case and imposed a fine of $12.75, which was paid by the winners busband.

The advent of woman into new occupations brings a new era into her life. Heretofore she had only to encounter the strain of household duties. Broader fields bring to her increased burdens. Her naturally sensitive organism is subject to a new mervous tension. How does it affect her? It brings exhaustion to her nervous energies. It brings weakness and loss of vitality. It adds new dangers to her condition. What does it do to future generations? It robs them of the robust vitality and nervous force they ought to have. It starts them in life the weaker physically and mentally, the result of this condition of her nervous system, weaken and overwrought as it is. It then becomes a vital subject of the welfare of the women—one to which the thoughtful are alrendy giving attention, one of serious moment to all.

It is a duty each woman owes to herself and her children. Given only to household duties that burden, see to it that your over-worked nerves are righted and your exhausted srength regained, Don't delay a single hour. If you are a woman wage-earner in the duties, which welgh upon you, see to it that you keep your nervous force up to its proper standard, that you re-Publications Received.

"RICHARD FORREST, BACHE-LOR," by Clement R. Marley. Street & Smith, publishers, New York. This is a bright and pleasing story. There is nothing complicated about it, and the love story of the old bachelor, whose hearst was so long steeled to woman's charms, but who succumbs at last to the girl who attempts to take the life of his best friend, because she lmagines he wronged her young and beautiful sister, is prettily told. There are strong religious sentiments, and the author puts forth some well-defined ideas on the social relations of men and women, which are very pertinent.

ing its welcome messages each month to the young people of the land. It began existence in 1873, consolidating with it in its early years all of the leading children's periodicals of that day, "The Little Corporal," "Children's flour," "The School-Day Magazine," and "Our Young Folks" among them. The last children's magazine to be merged in St. Nicholas was "White-Awake," which was purchased and consolidated with it only a few years ago, it has been fortunate in securing contributions for its pages from the leading writers and artists of the language, while it has given to its readers many works that have become imperishable classics in juvenile Herature. St. Nicholas has had for many years a large circulation in Europe, and is said to be read by miny royal children. When the children of the Prince took six copies for his household, and the present Crown Prince of Italy grey up a constant reader of St. Nicholas.
